Camu'n ôl mewn amser

Bu cloddio archeolegol helaeth yma yn y 1970au cyn adeiladu'r gronfa ddŵr. O ganlyniad, mae gennym ni wybodaeth drylwyr iawn am y safleoedd ac mae sawl heneb wedi'i hailadeiladu i roi syniad i ymwelwyr sut y gallen nhw fod wedi edrych filoedd o flynyddoedd yn ôl. Mae'r llwybr yn cynnig profiad digyffelyb i ymwelwyr o'r safleoedd dramatig hyn ac yn rhoi syniad da am fywyd a marwolaeth ein hynafiaid.

Gwrandewch ar yr archeolegydd Frances Lynch yn siarad am y safleoedd trwy lawrlwytho'r disgrifiad clyweledol o

www.denbighshirecountryside.org.uk/cerdded/

Stepping back in time

An archaeological excavation took place here in the 1970s before much of the area was flooded by the reservoir. As a result of this, we have very thorough information on the sites, and many of the monuments have been reconstructed so that visitors can really appreciate how they might have looked thousands of years ago. The trail offers visitors an unparalleled opportunity to experience these dramatic sites, and to gain insights into the lives and deaths of our ancestors.

Listen to archaeologist Frances Lynch talking about the sites by downloading the audio trail from

www.denbighshirecountryside.org.uk/walking/

Llyn Brenig yw y pedwerydd llyn mwyaf yng Nghymru. Rheolir gan Ddŵr Cymru, gyda'r ardal yn darparu lleoliad gwych ar gyfer pysgota, cerdded, beicio a hwyl i'r teulu.

Llyn Brenig is the fourth largest lake in Wales. Managed by Welsh Water, the area provides a fantastic base for fishing, walking, cycling and family fun.

Am fwy o wybodaeth gwelwch
For more information visit www.llyn-brenig.co.uk

Mae Taith Brenig yn llwybr 32 milltir o hyd i gerddwyr sy'n ymlwybro trwy gefn gwlad godidog rhwng Corwen a Llyn Brenig.

The Brenig Way is a 32 mile promoted route for walkers that meanders through beautiful countryside between Corwen and Llyn Brenig.

Am fwy o wybodaeth gwelwch
www.denbighshirecountryside.org.uk/taith-brenig/

For more information visit www.denbighshirecountryside.org.uk/brenig-way/

www.denbighshirecountryside.org.uk/cerdded/
(llawrlwythwch sylwebaeth awdio)

www.denbighshirecountryside.org.uk/walking/(downloadable audio commentary)

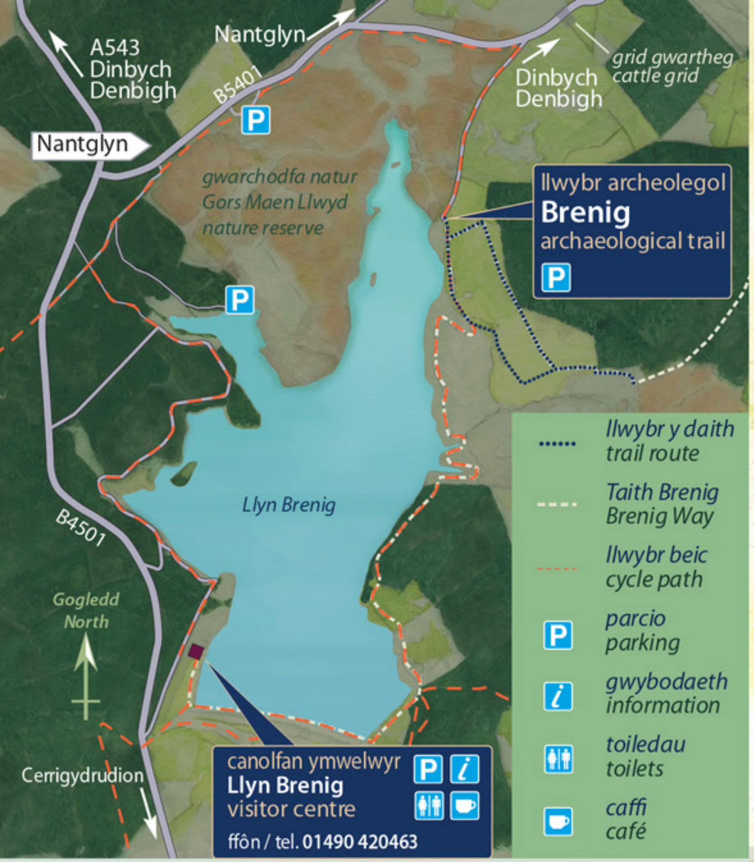
llwybr archeolegol
Brenig
archaeological trail



Lleolir Llwybr Archeolegol Brenig ar lannau gogleddol Llyn Brenig. Mae'n cyrraedd y tir uchel lle mae golygfeydd godidog dros Hiraethog i Eryri. Mae archeoleg yr ardal yn gyfoethog. Mae yma fan claddu o'r Oes Efydd yn ogystal ag olion adeiladau o'r Oesoedd Canol ymlaen.

Brenig Archaeological Trail is located on the northern shores of Llyn Brenig, extending up onto the high ground with stunning views across Hiraethog to Snowdonia. The area is rich in archaeology, being the location of a Bronze Age burial ground, as well as containing the remains of buildings from the Middle Ages onwards.

Hafod o'r unfed ganrif ar bymtheg
16th century hafod settlement

Ysgubor ganoloesol a llwybr ceffylau
Medieval barn and bridleway

Tŷ crwn o'r Oes Haearn
Iron Age round house

Henebion seremonïol a chladdu o'r Oes Efydd
Bronze Age burial and ceremonial monuments

Gwersyll helwyr-gasglwyr
Hunter-gatherer camp

Cyngor sir ddinbych denbighshire County Council
Dŵr Cymru Welsh Water
Cadw
Ariennir gan Lywodraeth Cymru
Funded by Welsh Government